It's not just you it happens to
They get to everyone
They'll wake you when you fall asleep
They'll catch you if you run
Just like everybody else
You're shaped by what you do
Every second, every day
Begins and ends with you

They're coming
They've come to shut you down
They're coming
They'll rip it from the ground
They're coming
To possess all that they see
They're coming
You're better off with me

I'm a patient man
Let's do the best we can to wait
I'll make you feel safe
When it's all said and done
We really are what we become
Cause that's just the way

Someone that you didn't notice is looking back at you
You're the only one to blame if you don't feel their eyes on you
They'll build a place for you to go
And that's just like where you've been
Rattle all the living souls
Start shaking up the dead

I'm a patient man
Let's do the best we can to wait
I'll make you feel safe
When all is said and done
We rarely are what we become
Cause that's just the way

So I cannot hide

I'm here for you but you decide
If you're going to stay
When they tear down these streets
Just let go of your beliefs
And we'll walk in this space

If I whisper in your ear
Will you hear everything that I say
Or will you turn to the real...(?)
I am not the man I say I am
I am here to instill fear
Before they come
But not a word of what you've heard

They're coming
They're gonna shut you down
They're coming
They'll rip it from the ground
They're coming
To possess all that they see
They're coming
So you're better off with me

I'm a patient man
Let's do the best we can to wait
And I'll make you feel safe
When all is said and done
We rarely are what we become
Cause that's just the way

So I cannot hide
I'm here for you but you decide
If you're going to stay
When they tear down these streets
Just let go of your beliefs
And we'll walk in this space
