Behind this gate is a place
A damp dark place
Where sunlight does not shine
A place where people who are different
Who can call home
And what home would be complete without a family?
A family of hideous abominations that with will cast out of your world
The world that drags and boasts of love
The world didn't love when they branded us freakshows
Ahh yes, the deplorable little name we inbraced by tonight

It was you that turned your back on them
And now their going to rip your soul apart
There's no way out now
The mutation process is already begun
Just like that Whether you change or decompose is no concern to me now
You've been warned
My job is done
Welcome to the FREEK SHOW.....
