Leave me all alone, There ain't nobody calling on my telephone
Because I ripped that bitch right up out of the wall, I apologize to any or that tried to call. I haven't been myself lately, I've been slowly losing my mind and telling 'em it's gravy I'm looking hella shady and I haven't showered in weeks, I haven't washed my balls, I haven't brushed my teeth. All I see is demons everywhere that I look, Was it the Ouija, the Black Magic Warlock book? I can't remember, but how can my memories leave me? I can't believe the spirits would try to receive me, But they did, just like a little kid I was so eager to learn, so willing to give. But all they did was hate me, and break me, Use my body for a host and my mirror for the gateway.

Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?
Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?

Please don't walk away, I want you to hear what I got to say. I never had anyone never care for me, I never had anyone never there for me. If you would listen to me 'stead of calling me names I would explain why I'm shaking and why I'm going insane. My mind is on vacation, lack of conversation, I'm like a radio, with static on every station. Still I wanna know, will I be normal again? You say it's bullshit and tell me that it's all pretend, But if it's false, then why don't the demons just disappear? And if it's untrue, then why am I seeing them crystal clear? Because I do. The mirror's turning blue, And soul after soul keeps walking right through. They're living in my house and living inside my head, Some sleep inside the closet, others sleep under the bed.

Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?
Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?

All I wanted to be, was a member of a family with unity,

But the people that s alive ll stab you straight in the back, and throw a stick in the spokes and flip you off of the track. If it wasn't for Monoxide and Violent J, That nigga Jack, Shaggy2dope and Blaze Ya Dead Homie, I probably would have given up and callen it quits, I probably wouldn't be here I probably wouldn't be shit. I find myself lookin' back in the glass and reminisce on the times of the president back. I'm feelin' strange, I wonder if they can save me, I'm feelin' cold, I'm standing in front of the gateway. Well here I am, I'm such a crazy man, I'm trying to control my life that best that I can, but the demons all around me trying to stray my away, I thank god that I'm standin' right here today.

Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?
Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?
Is it really my fault? I don't know just leave my head.

Is it really my fault? Will it last for eternity? Leave me alone, I can't be alone.

Is it really my fault? Inside my head, will it last for eternity?

Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?
Something is wrong with me; I can't be who I need to be. Something is wrong with me, will it last for eternity?
