Let not another tree fall in the name of greed.
Not one more tribe "civilized" for the lust of money.
Not one more species forced extinct to fill the pockets of the scum
Who would turn something so majestic into just another slum.
No, the greedy bastard will not be satisfied Until every tree has been cut down and every animal has died.
[Repeat]
Before every inch of forest is covered with concrete Extreme measures must be taken so let's fuck up their machines!
Greedy Bastards [repeat]
*Every dozer that we get costs them thousands to replace.
Every truck that gets fucked up is another loss that they must take.
When the logging road is blockaded, the fuckers can't get there
And when the trees have all been spiked the message sent is clear.*
[Repeat beginning]
But the spirit of the wilds lives on yearning for the day when we rid the land of those Scheme to lay nature to waste. Greedy Bastards!
