How can you let the pain be seen?
It's getting too much
How can you ever know?
Which way to go
It's getting too much

And I
I can feel the moment heating now
And I
Can't go back and turn all this around

Well,
A mother's love is nothing to be held back
And love is strong but life is where your heads at
I know this much for sure
See the doctor close the door
It's true I never thought I'd ever be here
I need someone to help me get my head clear
Flowers are never this broken
Hearts never been so open
Oh I can't take this pain please make it go away
Then a voice is heard to say
So what should we do
It's all left up to you
It's getting too much
It's all left up to you

You can feel the moment heating now
And you
Can't go back and turn all this around
Oh I
I can feel the moment heating now
It's time
To decide if life has started now

The noises in my head are loud and unclear
So quickly now what is to be done dear
Oh put your hands on my shoulder
The answer now clearer and bolder
I can do this
I should do this

We can do this
And I know it's for sure cause I

I can feel the moment heating now
And we
Can't go back and turn all this around
Oh then she
Nods her head and somehow says goodbye
Oh
How brave a girl can be
How brave a girl can be
