I never saw the other side of the city
It's pretty
The way the rain came falling down
Sent me back to a memory of a child
WHO DO YOU WANT TO BE
Do you wana be famous
Do you wana be wealthy
Do you wana live dangerous
Do you wana live free

Oh you can try to break me down
But I am stronger now
And the better half of me will refrain
I'm never gonna live again
Live again

Get on the right side of me

And when you find the dividing line
Between who lies and who truly believes
Oh well some will break
And some won't mistake
And then you'll find your place to be
And there's now doubt
There I found out
That my dreams were made of things
That won't break unless I please

Get on the right side of me
