

Two Gallants "Winter's Youth" in the winter of your youth with a string tied 'round your tooth your momma slammed the door don't wanna hear no more

from the corners of your mouth as the truth came wandering out you long for something else your life upon the shelf
out upon the open road
you learned to say goodbye
such a lovely day to die all these things I've seen within your two blue eyes in the silence of this town There's the truth came wandering 'round your neighbor slams the door
don't wanna hear no more
