Stand in line, take a number
You're no different from one to the other, no
I know he's just a boy

He'll be replaced, you best believe it
You're gonna lose yourself
If you don't leave him
I know, he's just a boy

You tell yourself
He'll never love anyone, the way he loved you
But you know, you know
This is just not, this is just not true

He's just a boy, a boy
He's just a boy, a boy

Crescent moon, silver stars
Strewn around her neck
Throw some coins, choose a card
She's got seven, she's got seven decks

She says angels follow her around
They always interfere with love
She's out on, she's out on the town

She wants a boy, a boy
She wants a boy, oh, oh, a boy

I know you think you won the prize
Because you're sleeping in his bed
But before too long
Out to the pasture girl, you will be led

So stand in line, take a number
You're no different from one to the other
I know he's just a boy

He's just a boy, a boy
He's just a boy, oh, oh, a boy

Goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, boy

I've got to move on
I've got to move on
