There she goes again
Off to ride the carousel
Off to gather kind words and compliments
In a very short dress
In a very short dress

Leftovers and lovers
Consumed before the light
Every one looks pretty
As long as there is night

Losing coats and hats in lovers' cars
You're losing friends
You don't know who they are
Climbing ladders that don't interest you
Chasing rabbits, well, you always do

Tie your tiger to an old tree root
You're sticking pins inside your soldier's boots
Want everything, everything, everything
Everything, everything

Leftovers and lovers
Consumed before the light
Every one looks pretty
As long as there is night
