You might not know it
If you look her in her eyes
She's lived a lifetime, watching herself die

I don't know her story
But it makes me wonder
She might wake up in the sunlight
Or be crushed by thunder

Already gone (Is she)
Already gone (Is she)
Already gone to hell

Already gone (Is she)
Already gone (Is she)
Already gone.....to hell
Gone to hell

She might be an angel
If she could breathe to preach
But she's fallen so far under
And she still scratches to reach

I begin to start to cry when I see her and me
I want to see her fly away
It sets apart of me free

Already gone (Is she)
Already gone (Is she)
Already gone to hell

Already gone
Already gone (Is she)
Already gone

A thousand feet have fallen down
But her feet will never touch the ground
Cause she's never, no she never
Comin' back again
She's never coming back down again

A thousand feet have fallen down
But her feet will never touch the ground
Cause she's never, no she's never
Comin' back again
She's never coming back

Because she's already gone
Is she already gone
Is she already gone to hell

Already gone (Is she)
Already gone (Is she)
Already gone to hell
Gone to hell
Gone to hell
She's gone to hell
