This is ponderous man. Really ponderous.
I had this dream the other night
I went to work, and nobody remembered who I was, so I decided to take the day off

On my way out, I run into my boss
He says, "Hey, you look familiar."
I said "Thanks, people say that a lot in these dreams"

And the horns kicked in
And my shoes started to squeak

All of a sudden I'm standing on a beach in some tropical part of the world
And there's this sign that says
"Aren't you supposed to be at work?"
Sort of screamed out at me
Then I remembered. I'd been here in other dreams.
Usually there was a water polo game
And a girl who could talk with her eyes.
And she'd say, "Can you see what I'm saying?"
And the horns kicked in
And my shoes started to squeak

Before I knew it, I was walking near a lake
And a phone rings
And the operator speaks to me in a language I don't understand

Oom poppa chuckamaga nauva sing gow
Ding koppawallawally double ching pow
Heavy coppalua cumma ginasing tea
Oom mama chuckamana one is now free

Then the horns kicked in
And my shoes started to squeak

Before long, I was coming up on this really weird part of my dream
You know, the part where I know how to tap dance
But I can only do it while wearing golf shoes?

Now I'm back on the beach,
Walking with this girl who talks with her eyes.
This time she says, "I think you see what I'm saying"
Then, just before I woke up, it started to rain in Southern California

Oom poppa chuckamaga nauva sing gow
Ding koppawallawally double ching pow
Heavy coppalua cumma ginasing tea
Oom mama chuckamana one is now free

The girl who could talk with her eyes.
"Can you see what I'm saying?"
Aren't you supposed to be at work?
This is ponderous man, really ponderous.
