Are your eyes burning up
From the make up and tears
I bet you miss songs about us
Yet you write delicate notes
But it's not worth my time
Cause we both know that it's over

I won't be made a fool of this time
You've been out of line
Since the very first time
That you wrote your list
And knew you could win my heart
No, not this time
Cause I'm worth more than you can write

So you walk away
Everything gained
And I am left alone
With the two of you gone
Stay silent all year
Still he's standing right here
I knew you were worth my time

I won't be made a fool of this time
You've been out of line
Since the very first time
That you wrote your list
And knew you could win my heart
No, not this time
Cause I'm worth more than useless words can write

So long my love
You've been in control for too long
