We're in a room full of people
And you're talking to yourself again
'Til you find your closest friend, the door

Let's take a walk out in the sun
You said, "Why? The clouds will come
Just like all the times before"

Well, how can you survive
On whiskey and goodbyes
Does it satisfy?

Baby, don't go off and hide
So scared of what the world will find
I can help you if you need it

You may not care for love
You made it clear, you're mind's made up
I can make your heart believe it

It will take your breath away
Just try, you'll be amazed
It'll bring new life to the dead

You just know without any proof
It can turn lies into truth
It's the best medicine you can get

Won't you take my hand
Before you slip back there
And get nowhere?

Baby, don't go off and hide
So scared of what the world will find
I can help you if you need it

You may not care for love
You made it clear, you're mind's made up
I can make your heart believe it
Oh, make your heart believe it

I can't watch you drown, drown

Sink to the bottom like a stone
So unaware that you're even going down, down
You do it oh so naturally

Don't go off and hide
So scared of what the world will find
I can help you if you need it

Oh, you may not care for love
You made it clear, you're mind's made up
I can make your heart believe it
I can help you if you need it

Let's take a walk out in the sun
I know the clouds will come
But not like before
