

Ty Herndon

"Livin In A Moment"

Visit "Livin In A Moment" on MotoLyrics.com

Well the world just lost two lonely people
The world just lost two broken hearts
The odds were against us but baby here we are
In our own little place in our own little corner
This old cold world just got a little warmer
For the rest of my life I'm gonna hold you in my arms

(Chorus)

And when they carve my stone all they need to write on it
Is once lived a man who got all he ever wanted
Tell me somethin, who could ask for more
Than to be livin in a moment you would die for

If you never get rich on what money can buy
It don't matter to me, I'll tell you why
I've got it all when I'm holdin you this way
I live to love you, I'd die to keep you
Safe inside these arms that need you
I'll be lovin you with the very last breath I take

(Repeat Chorus)

Ashes to ashes, dust into dust
I'll lay beside you forever in love
And when they carve my stone all they need to write on
it
Is once lived a man who got all he ever wanted
Tell me somethin, who could ask for more
Than to be livin in a moment
Lovin every minute
Tell me somethin, who could ask for more
Than to be livin in a moment you would die for
Livin in a moment
You would die for
Oh baby,
I'm livin in a moment
I would die for

