(D. Vaughn, M. Clayton, B. St.James)

I must have stood on that runway for hours

I must have watched a hundred planes fade away

I said good-bye to every one of them, and every one took you away again

Bridge:

But if I need to know that you're waiting

And if I need to hear that you're mine

Chorus:

Write your name in the sky, set it flying so high

Let the wind blow it my way (write your name in the sky)

Throw a message in the sea, send it sailing to me

Take these clouds from my eyes, write your name in the sky

I tell my secrets to your picture

I catch the smell of you on my pillow at night

Sometimes I don't know what goes on inside my head

And I hope I told you everything I should have said
