Alright girl, alright girl Huh, check it [Verse 1] Such a spark I saw embark Kind of hard to see the cold heart I had a hold at the start But the mould takes its path Don't have to ask, you seem half as smart Used to touch her arse How you'd pass from such a sweet girl I can't imagine Down to earth to extremely arrogant I'm tryna fathom why you grab him What really happened? You don't feel my rappin You need a slappin with a raw fish I saw this perfect little chick Turn from the shit to this complete stranger Never wanted to change her, a disclaimer What's going on? You'll never hear these songs Cause your patience won't last that long Feeling weak, yet I'm strong, I carry along With a large load of weight That you slapped on my plate You still wanna be mates But that doesn't make me feel that great Your model number is different You're off into another shipment I'm sorry about the bitchin But you left me twitchin in my sleep How'd you creep from my grasp? The dark day when your true personality slipped away It slipped away, it slipped away It slipped away, just slipped away [Chorus] {X4} You changed, you're not the same girl You changed, now it's not the same [Verse 2] You were kind, considerate and down to earth Now you're with a guy that I crown a jerk And for it's worth, I still think that happiness is what you deserve So it's true the word That you're with this bloke that's pretentious And interventious, senseless behaviour He affected you in a major way Now you're the player of the day Because of the way you wear those clothes Suppose your relation ship grows And in a year or two, you'll have a few foes Headaches and woes over those clothes A little bit becoming, and that style's way out of fashion Now what's your reaction? Get FUCKED? That's what you would have said to the Muph And I respect it that I can't touch on what you wanna do But in a year or two, you two become a tight little crew And you grew doing the things he wanted you to do At least felt "phew" when he was impressed With the way that you dressed But now you're feeling built up stress Cause you were never blessed With the ability to be just who you are girl I don't know who you are Once a superstar in my atmosphere But you wiped that clear Along with a few salty tears, now here-here I don't much in such of you and your new partner But what I've heard girl, there's a lot of gaga I'm a farm-ah just tryna grow my crops Letting you know you've changed just like Hip Hop But not for what I consider to be the better I'll miss the old Olivia and that's forever I'll miss the old Olivia and that's forever I'll miss the old Olivia and that's forever But I must step forth and continue with my endeavours I'll miss the old Olivia and that's forever {X8}
