Your love reminding...
I'm living outside of my means
But for just one day
Where words are colour for ears...
Hearing the silence... your song on replay...
Talking to the ocean in you...
Comfort the waves before I can be moving on...
Floating through the coral to you...
Cutting my chest and reopening a wound...

Getting off on rocking where you oughta roll...
You can't break me...
If you wanna talk heavy then you oughta know...
You can't break me... you can't break me at all...

You look brave, my little slave...
Everywhere I can find beauty inside...
What is strange about you?
I'm coming to stay...
Tables are turning... I'm giving what you gave...

Now I can hear you coming...
You're the last one at my parade...
Barely I hear you strumming...
Only now did it fade...
Want the storm around me...
Just to feel the calm inside...
'cos sooner or later... I'll take to the sky...
