by saying nothing
i'm saying something else not victim to the cause in time the voices fade, away if you live in my world then live in my world now tendencies to forget the year, the date, the time, the day

i'm claiming the ground and saying what's mine my voice isn't heard now i'm screaming out loud

'cause i tried my wings tonight i tried my wings tonight so he read out his rules read out his rules

i started writing mine on how to become famous, or infamous voices, faces vacant stares at me while angels look from height at how we live in circles, in circles say it loud, say it clear because i'm really listening and i know what you need you need love
