"Into You"

sitting here all alone thats floating threw my head, threw my heart and those thoughts i see you and me together nuthing less were inlove, how can this be why is this happening to me why am i so lost into your eyes and i cant seem to get out cant you see im into you and i have no idea what to do what would be of my life is you didnt feel the same way as i do, about you, theres no telling what id do if you dont love me back you make me shake and tremble when you put your hands on me and it feels so so so gentle yet i know im not the way you want but that makes me want you more

and im trying to tell you what it is i feel for you but im scared of what you feel inside and i dont know what to do
