I'm walking on down the street
My breath in front of me
Street lights shining in the snow
The dusk is settling the day's ending
The cold winter wind blows

It's quiet outside tonight
The stars are shining bright
Hope is vivid in my mind
And though I'm shivering
And tonight is blistering
For the moment I am fine
Open your eyes tonight
Open your eyes tonight

It's a long way to happiness
But I'll keep walking all night
It's a long way to happiness
Someday I'll be alright

I think about the days back when Things were much simpler then
Making angels out of the snow
But now it feels bitter cold
And I fear growing old
Those days seem so long ago
Open your eyes tonight
Open your eyes tonight

It's a long way to happiness
But I'll keep walking all night
It's a long way to happiness
Someday I'll be alright

Ooh
Someday I'll be alright
Well someday I'll be alright

It's a long way to happiness
But I'll keep walking all night
It's a long way to happiness

Someday I'll be alright
Well someday I'll be alright
