You've never been this distant
Since the day we first met
Now you're standing here tongue tied

I know you're hiding something
And you keep it blinded
I can see it in your eyes
And oh no you're suddenly clouded
And the deeper I go the more I'm drowning

If what you don't know won't hurt ya
Then maybe this is better left alone
Until you figure out what's wrong
But if you choose to leave today
I won't be standing in your way
I can't wait here anymore
Well some things are better left alone

You could lie to me
But that won't change a thing
Cause the bigger picture's gone
And oh it could be a misunderstanding
But the deeper I go the more you're hiding

If what you don't know won't hurt ya
Then maybe this is better left alone
Until you figure out what's wrong
But if you choose to leave today
I won't be standing in your way
I can't wait here anymore
Well some things are better left alone
Well some things are better left alone

If what you don't know won't hurt ya
Then maybe this is better left alone
Until you figure out what's wrong
Yeah, yeah, yeah
But if you choose to leave today
I won't be standing in your way
I can't wait here anymore

If what you don't know won't hurt ya
Then maybe this is better left alone
Until you figure out what's wrong
But if you choose to leave today
I won't be standing in your way
I can't wait here anymore

If what you don't know won't hurt ya
I said some things are better left alone
Some things are better left alone
