I've been walking through the ruins
Of my life and times
Seems like everything
Is sinking right in front of my eyes

I've been asking all the questions
But nothing's coming back
I've been trying to keep myself
From slipping through the cracks

Where is my faith?
How did I get this far?
Who do I blame
When it all falls apart?

Maybe the moon's just a hole in the sky
One day at a time
My world is shattering
Maybe the answer's to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling
Unraveling!

I don't know who to turn to
And I wonder who's a friend
Out of everyone I trusted to be here to the end

I'm running out of reasons
For putting up a fight
Trying to drag another lost soul
Back into the light

How did I heal
So many broken hearts?
And who's there for me
When it all falls apart?

Maybe the moon's just a hole in the sky
One day at a time
My world is shattering
Maybe the answer's to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling

Unraveling!

We were so strong
When we started
Something went wrong
And all the things that mattered
Somehow got away
Away

Maybe the moon's just a hole in the sky
One day at a time
My world is shattering
Maybe the answer's to never ask why
As I watch my life unraveling
As I watch my life unraveling
Unraveling!

Gonna watch it unwind
One day at a time
Gonna watch it unwind
One day at a time
Gonna watch it unwind
One day at a time
Gonna watch it unwind
One day at a time
