You've built this world around you
Now there's no one else to blame
If there's love in your heart, I hope you find it
Before you tear yourself apart
If there's love
I remember when you told me
They would never break you down
The company you've been keeping
They're the ones that'll make you drown
There was so much joy inside you
Now it's nowhere to be found
If there's love in your heart, I hope you find it
Before you tear yourself apart
If there's love, if there's love
Don't go runnin' away
The past just won't stop following you
Take a little time today
To face what you know in your heart is true
You've built this world around you
Now there's no one else to blame
If there's love in your heart, I hope you find it

Before you tear yourself apart

If there's love, If there's love in your heart

If there's love, If there's love in your heart
