Hey girl, why don't you listen

[Verse 1:]

I know why you look so sad, you got your head down in your hands and you crying out loud.
Screaming that he did it again, took your love, used you up and he ran back to the other chick.
You saying that you tired of the lies, no back and forth
this time, I'm throwing out his stuff and saying bye.
Can't continue going thru this, but I know when he calls you'll be right back with him again.
Ooooo no!

[Chorus:]

Everyday always something, a man will go and take
Tell you that he'll stick around and you should love him.
Tell me what's it gonna take your losing your sanity.
Well then let me tell you this one thing, you're worth
over a million princess cut diamonds.
Don't let nobody tell you that you deserve this, lift your head up high and say I know that I'm gonna be okay.

[Verse 2:]

You should stop taking the blame, say it's your fault cuz hes gone and ain't ever comming home.
You know that nothings ever gon change, he'll be back,
your off track, and after that be on his way.
Life has so much more to offer you, so you gotta shake
the blues, pick yourself up, do what you gotta do.
Trust me girl it gets better, time goes on, you realize he never deserved you at all.

[Chorus:]

Everyday always something, a man will go and take
Tell you that he'll stick around and you should love him.
Tell me what's it gonna take your losing your sanity.
Well then let me tell you this one thing, you're worth
over a million princess cut diamonds.
Don't let nobody tell you that you deserve this, lift your head up high and say I know that I'm gonna be okay.

[Hook:]

And if you got a man that's treating you real bad, never has your back, it's time for you to leave his ass.

And if you got a man that never gave a damn, it's time for you to understand, you deserve a better man.

And if you got a man that's treating you real bad, never has your back, it's time for you to leave his ass.

And if you got a man that never gave a damn, it's time for you to understand, because you deserve a better man.

[Chorus: x2]

Everyday always something, a man will go and take your pride your left with nothing.

Tell you that he'll stick around and you should love him.

Tell me what's it gonna take your losing your sanity.

Well then let me tell you this one thing, your worth over a million princess cut diamonds.

Don't let nobody tell you that you deserve this, lift your head up high and say I know that I'm gonna be okay.
