Unexplained sight whenever you're around this unfulfilled adjacent of moment comes around impulsive scene shivers over and over again

i wonder if i could completely present myself to you i dont have any brilliant words to say anyway

and affirmation denies everything i need to say take back everything like nothing's left for me why cant you feel the way i'm feeling now?

could you even pretend that you want me?
