Night crawls on your window, night crawls in your bones it's the night that makes you shiver when you're living on your own.

When you're sitting at your table and you watch the empty space within you heart It often seems a little sleazy, baby nothing good comes easily and when there's nothing left but hope you always lose a little piece of soul (everytime you lose somebody) always lose a little piece of soul (everytime you hurt somebody)

always lose a little piece of soul (everytime you love somebody) you always lose a little piece o'soul fear comes easy, fear is slowly creeping up your spine when you know you will be lonely while you're sitting in the dim light you realize you're feeling incomplete

You always lose.....
