"As Always You Were Wrong Again"

Raise the price of parking fines
Boost for the economy
If that don't work, we close the mines
Starve the poor of industry

As always you were wrong again
To us a little seems a lot
Don't turn your back on desperate men
'Cause we can see how much you've got

We proved again, we rule the waves
Blow for white democracy
That Britains never shall be slaves
Long as they agree with me

As always you were wrong again
To us a little seems a lot
Don't turn your back on desperate men
We can see how much you've got

We'll close the roads, divide the land
Put out the rage that burns within
Break the link of dirty hands
At any cost we've got to win

As always you were wrong again
To us a little seems a lot
Don't turn your back on desperate men
We can see how much you've got

Keep them poor and wanting more
Deprive them of their basic rights
Hunger banging at their door
Take away their will to fight

As always you were wrong again
To us a little seems a lot
Don't turn your back on desperate men
'Cause we can see how much you've got

As always you were wrong again
To us a little seems a lot

Don't turn your back on desperate men
'Cause we can see how much you've got

As always you were wrong again
To us a little seem a lot
Don't turn your back on desperate men
'Cause we can see how much you've got

As always you were wrong again
To us a little seems a lot
Don't turn your back on desperate men
'Cause we can see how much you've got
