It's all true, girl
I really and truly love you even true the times I make you feel blue, you, you captured my heart and my mind oh my love the way you bump and grind you, you light up my life every day how I love you and I really don't say, stay these times with me by my side
'cause my love to you won't never subside
I love you mine, love how you stay
I don't want your loving any other way
I love you mine, love how you stay
I don't want your loving any other way

It's all true, girl
I really and truly love you couldn't find knowone to confess, you you are constantly on my mind there's no better love I ever will find you are all of my dreams going one now I'm really sure you are the right one please forever be there on my side without your loving I could never survive

I love you mine, love how you stay
I don't want your loving any other way
I love you mine, love how you stay
I don't want your loving any other way
