What is this I see
You don't have time for me
Is it demanded respect that
You can't handle
Can I say these words
Without others hearing
Or have you lost all respect for me

You might think this song is about you
But its about me
You might think this song is about you
I wish you could see

You can say that it's about others
When the truth is that its not
You make decisions without me
And I wish it would stop

But who am I
I'm just a voice
From the past
Could it be the same
No, it won't last

You might think this song is about you
But its about me
You might think this song is about you
I wish you could see

You might think this song is about you
But its not
