When we held each other tight in the warmth of the long dark night you whispered someone else's name will our love ever be the same Feel like a fool
you've been cheating on me.
I never dreamed our love would fail I was so blind I couldn't tell Now my hearts the one broken from that moment his name was spoken Feel like a fool
you've been cheating on me.
Would you be so kind and tell me why our love has ended up a lie you knew how much I loved you now that wasn't very cool to do Feel like a fool

and I'm going to get even with you.
So you better pack your bags before I turn your clothes to rags don't come back to me crying I'll just turn away while sighing Feel like a fool
you've been cheating on me.
When we held each other tight in the warmth of the dark long night Feel like a fool
you've been cheating on me now I'm getting even with you.
