You say that no one knows, well I know, I know oh
You say that no one cares, well I care, I am here oh

To wipe away all the things they say
That make you cry and make you wonder why

I will never let you down,
You can count on me, you know I'll always be around
I will never ever let you down,
I'll pick you up when your whole world comes crashing
down

You think that you are strong, but are you strong, you are wrong, oh
Your melody is as fragile as can be, without me, oh

To wipe away all the things they say
That make you cry and make you wonder why

I will never let you down,
You can count on me, you know I'll always be around
I will never ever let you down,
I'll pick you up when your whole world comes crashing
down

I watch you fall again and then I say to you my friend
You cannot trust in those who think the world is at their feet,
But remember

I will never let you down,
You can count on me, you know I'll always be around
I will never ever let you down,
I'll pick you up when your whole world comes crashing
down
