Everybody's at the side of the road

We belong to the subway station, we know

Oh, we're travelling souls

Everybody's at the side of the road

We belong to the railway station, we know

Oh, we're travelling souls

Everybody's at the side of the road

We belong to the railway station, we know

We're travelling souls

I could walk with my head held high

And keep you wondering why

Well, I could tell you 'bout the things I never tried

Don't ask why

Everybody's at the side of the road
