Things I don't remember
How the hell'd we get here? How the hell did we get here?
Things I don't remember
Dressed up alligators, how'd the hell we get here?

Things I don't remember
There was dressed up alligator
There was come on the piano
Disco dancing neighbors

Who were born in mashed potatoes
Caught with our pants down
Hiding in the doghouse
Figured out what we're good for

You're the sailor and I'm the port
Things I don't remember
We undressed for the tailor
Your skin was lightly salted

Opened up a can of loud mouth malted
High fives in your eyes
Pushed the gas and now I'm kissin' your thighs
Looking for a purpose, how the hell'd we get here?

There were things I don't remember
There was messed up alligator
There were endless conversations
No one's mouths were really moving

All them dumpsters overflowing
All my [Incomprehensible] intentions

Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember

Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember

Things I don't remember

Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember

Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember

Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember
Things I don't remember

Things I don't remember
Things I don't

I figured out what I'm good for Making anything look better
How the hell could I blame her?
Even then I was a savior

There were jokes [Incomprehensible]
Every hand was tipped in subliminal sand
Things I don't remember
There was undressed for the tailor

There are jokes [Incomprehensible]
There were disco dancing neighbors
They were born in mashed potatoes
There was no town, Motown

There were things I don't remember
Dressed up alligator
How the hell'd we get here?
How the hell'd we get here?
