Another party with the same kids, another night with the same drinks
I need to find myself a new chick, yeah I need to kiss a set of new lips
She's gotta be something new to me, a fresh face, someone new to please So come on, come on girl just you and me, oh come on girl, just you and me

This kind of girl makes it rough, holding our breath
while we touch

She won't kiss and tell, but this isn't how she got that name
It all seems like a game, how she moves so well
I won't call this hell, if I had to guess I'd say
We've got a mess you could sell

And how am I supposed to think, with her hands all over me
Telling me all the right things, ever so distracting She's gotta be something new to me, loose ends but no sight of strings
So come on, come on girl just you and me, oh come on
girl, just you and me

This kind of girl makes it rough, holding our breath
while we touch

She won't kiss and tell, but this isn't how she got that
It all seems like a game, how she moves so well
I won't call this hell, if I had to guess I'd say
We have a mess you could sell

She's making it harder, harder to breathe I'm getting weaker, but still pulling the strings

The lights are all off, there's no one around We've both lost our minds, they're nowhere to be found It's getting hot, I'm not saying this is hell, but I swear

This girl's a mess you could sell

She won't kiss and tell, but this isn't how she got that

It all seems like a game, how she moves so well

I won't call this hell, if I had to guess I'd say

We've got a mess you could sell
