Got caught running up a tab
Couldn't drive home, so i had to share a cab
Introduce herself, by her last name
The kind of girl you steal from the football team
Brought up, silver spoon mess
Always trying to tear her off her catholic dress
Told me, she's over this place
Needs to feel the midwest wind in her face

But the alcohol made its way down
She was the last thing that i saw last night before i hit the ground

Oh, god, i did the wrong thing to the right girl
My mind was only in it for a minute
Had a bad fling with the good girl
I was stupid and dumb, not givin' up
The blank stare out the window
If i could just sober up, if i could just admit
I did the wrong thing to the right girl
It was your world baby and i just lived in it
It was your world baby and i just lived in it

I've never been the best with my mouth
Tried to say smart, but the dumb comes out
Maybe i'm shy, drive an old car
Maybe i'm amazed that i got this far
When i've got my standbys waiting on the line
But the hardest part is knowing that it won't be her this time

Oh, god, i did the wrong thing to the right girl
My mind was only in it for a minute
Had a bad fling with the good girl
I was stupid and dumb, not givin' up
The blank stare out the window
If i could sober up, if i could just admit
I did the wrong thing to the right girl
It was your world baby and i just lived in it
It was your world baby and i just lived in it

Please, please baby come back
Please, please baby come back
Please, please baby come back
Please, please baby come back

She came back
Thought she had it all planned out
Went to marry some guy she had talked about
A tear in a dress
And a tear in her eye
And just like that, her whole life flashed by
She said you won't remember what you said last night
That if you ever needed someone to pick up the pieces in your life

Oh, god, i did the wrong thing to the right girl
My mind was only in it for a minute
Had a bad fling with the good girl
I was stupid and dumb, not givin' up
The blank stare out the window
If i could just sober up, if i could just admit
I did the wrong thing to the right girl
It was your world baby and i just lived in it
It was your world baby and i just lived in it
It was your world
Please, please baby come back
Please, please baby come back
Please, please baby come back
