Diamond ring, I wonder what you bring 'Cause it feels like it is a lot to this hand, if I don't see How every time I'm seeing clearly the sky fills up with clouds
But I'm sure I'm just afraid of leaving a world without

Surrender, will you marry me?
Ever after, what does it mean?

Well, I don't feel like being alone, but I still don't know Well, I'm just asking myself
'Cause how's a diamond ring supposed to know

Don't insist, it's all an awful bliss
You can't pretend like it isn't all that bad or did you miss
How every time I get to see her, she's just about to leave
And it looks like Halloween is still here on Christmas eve

Surrender, will you marry me?
Ever after, what does it mean?

And I don't feel like being alone, but I still don't know
Is a diamond ring just a shiny stone?
And I've felt like this for a long time, and I know it shows
But I'm just asking myself 'cause how's a diamond ring supposed to know

And by the time, I figure it out I'll probably be about the age of fifty-three
So now you've noticed how tight to my youth, I cling Yeah, well no one said we have to let go easily, yeah

And I don't feel like being alone, but I still don't know
About a diamond ring
About a diamond ring
About a diamond ring

About a diamond ring

About a diamond ring

About a diamond ring
