

Ultimatum "Crash Course"

Visit "Crash Course" on MotoLyrics.com

Living life like in reckless abandon,
ignoring the signs like life's just begun.
Eternity is a long time to place into the hands of chance.

So many asking, so many searching,
the truth is right before their eyes.
Life is but a small speck,
In a vast eternity, arise.

Crash Course with Eternity
Faced with the truth, c'mon what will it be
Crash course with Eternity
Life's not a game why can't you see

In an instant, life can change;
one minute your here then your gone.
Mortality is a short time but Spiritual life will never die

I've said it before I'll say it a gain, delay can be fatal, in the end.
In betweeners won't survive.
In a vast eternity, arise.
So it shall be, the end of the age,
angels shall come to separate,
sever the wicked from the just.
How much longer will He wait
'til his patience turns to wrath.
Eternally separated.
In a vast eternity, arise

Living life like in reckless abandon,
ignoring the signs like life's just begun.
Eternity is a long time to place into the hands of
chance.
So many asking, so many searching,
the truth is right before your eyes.
Life is but a speck
in a vast eternity, arise.
