

Malcolm Lincoln

"Siren"

Visit "Siren" on MotoLyrics.com

Siren in my head is making awful sound
It's time to make it clear what is lost and what is found

My life has been oh lame, has been oh lame so far
I wasted years, I wasted time trying to reach the stars
My life has been oh lame, has been oh lame so far

So give me time and give me strength, give me strength to carry on
Give me bit of hope now, help me through the night
So give me time and give me strength, give me strength to carry on
Give me bit of hope now, help me through the night

Siren in my head, yes I can hear it again
Is it just the beginning or is it the end?

My life has been oh lame, has been oh lame so far
I wasted years, I wasted time trying to reach the stars
My life has been oh lame, has been oh lame so far

So give me time and give me strength, give me strength to carry on
Give me bit of hope now, help me through the night
So give me time and give me strength, give me strength to carry on
Give me bit of hope now, help me through the night

So give me time and give me strength, give me strength to carry on
Give me bit of hope now, help me through the night
So give me time and give me strength, give me strength to carry on
Give me bit of hope now, help me through the night

Submitter's comments:Â

Official lyrics

Visit Malcolm Lincoln page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.