You never know what hits you till your black and blue you never get the picture til the movie's through and even if you do it doesnt mean a thing you're only gonna play it like a fool again
The whole things daft, I dont know why
You have to laugh or else you cry
You have to live or else you die
You have to laugh of else you cry
You tell yourself you're sick and tired of getting burned and then you realize youre never gonna learn you think youre gonna get it but you just dont know you want it but forget it cause you move too slow
The whole things daft, I dont know why
You have to laugh or else you cry

You have to laugh of else you cry
We all need time to unwind and get away far from ourselves everyone, everyday
The whole things daft, I dont know why
You have to laugh or else you cry
You have to laugh of else you cry
