Verse 1

Existing on a planet in crisis Absorb the scenes of devastating destruction and damage my iris
Decimate my pupil
The actions of bloodlines that date back to Queen Semiramis or Isis
And Nimrod or Osiris Global control over thousands of years embedded in media and politics
Senior authorities, a blatant misleading of majorities Crops of propaganda feeding the colonies Royalty and monarchies, corporate monopolies
A very frightening realization of prophecies, coming true
And people don't wanna know the truth even when you tell em 'geeza it's right in front of you' Even the people that have sat and taken the knowledge in Aren't seeing the facts and acknowledging That life is about so much more than a paper chase
A minority effort can't save a race

Chorus

Very few people are listening apparently but I'll still stand here and make my plea to humanity
The world's decaying rapidly, people are cracking on and showing a disgusting amount of apathy Very few people are listening apparently but I'll still
stand here and make my plea to humanity
Starting to feel the worlds agony That's why these words and sentiments are expressed infallibly

Verse 2

So now I've set the tone
But would it make any difference if I was saying it muted or through a megaphone?

I think not, cos people are more concerned with consumerism and with the latest mobile telephone The biggest widescreen, the flashest car on the drive, a proper part time star on the side â€¦ HA!
More concerned about your appointment with Toni &
Guy
Making sure you get your weed, charlie or opium high
As we obliterate reserves of our fossil fuels Listen to the sample at the end about the concentration of poisons in our air molecules Weâ€™re talking dangerous levels like the enrichment of uranium metals
By the Iranian rebels, and the North Koreans Western civilisation is under threat and Europeans Wont stand for it, nor will the yanks man Weâ€™ve always been the main threat, you donâ€™t stand a chance man!

Verse 3

We are the stewards of this planet son
And I for one feel as if itâ€™s a moral responsibility To conserve the amazing species of wildlife from every rainforest and coral reef that visibly Are being savagely destroyed Perfectly normal to some, in mine and natureâ€™s eyes illicitly Physically weâ€™re killing mother earth and emotionally she canâ€™t cope, sheâ€™s surrounded by misery Thereâ€™s some confusion, many idiot people think, â€œthe solution, to pollution, is dilutionâ€ So all the toxic waste you pump into the ocean and fumes into the atmosphere are justified pollutants As far as excuses go its nice that, but it doesnâ€™t bring back the polar ice cap Or put a halt to the persistent climate change
A young man speaking in the midst of a dying age
