It was all Illusion, fragment of the whole product in confusion, mastering my soul.
Moments of division, lost about the way
If I could feel my vision, swallow and remain.

Moments of division, lord, man, I can't see contemplate my motion, where am I to be?

All my thoughts divided All my friends divided and our whole world' s divided, and all these plans divided me All my friends divided, so But all our roads are spoken for.

Until it fades, It's far gone
It goes away soul embrace
We're all the same
soul embrace
We're all the same

Until it fades all away.
