You've been walking in the lonesome deserts for years
The cold nights, the silence, and your fears
What did you lose? What did you find?
When you find the time, please, send us a sign

Universal love, coming from above
Universal love, coming from above

In the rush of the city, lovers long meet
The way you move me on a dead end street
Sounds of sirens tears the night in two
Have we failed to see your point of view?

In the rush of the city, lovers long meet
The way you move me on a dead end street
Sounds of sirens tears the night in two
Have we failed to see your point of view?

Universal love, coming from above
Universal love, coming from above

You're more important than you know
Take my hand, when will you understand
You're heaven sent
