When misery is coming your way
Down sit back and wait for the dawning of a new day
Face your fears and don't back down
Maintain your composure my son
Rise up, and always stand your ground

There's always going to be sorrow
But you can't always rely on waiting for tomorrow
You never know when you or I might die
But you will always have my hand in death
To hold yours and draw the proper path

I don't want to leave you now, but I'll wait still Before time makes us part and forever closes our fate
I can see your suffering and about to break
But hold me dear and I promise you'll always be safe

Sometimes it seems the world is out to get you
And there's little hope of getting away
But stand tall and above the crowd
And find that someone that makes your day
If you have to commit with someone to save yourself
Make sure its liable and never do it to please someone else
You can walk alone through empty streets
But you do it for sympathy from the shadows lurking behind you
Look through the windows with your weeping eyes
You weren't called to live someone else's life

You've been beat down
Thrown down
Spat upon
Rise my friend and you will see
The empty terror drowns itself inside of me

When life's as empty as a forgotten tunnel
The promises always seem to fade away
Hold your breath while we part ways my son
Hold your pride even in places where you don't belong
You've been mutilated for far too long

Take pride, before it's gone
Move on and forever you'll live on
