Everybody's talkin' bout revolution
Goes along with the thoughts in my head
Why's it unpatriotic to say that no-one should end up dead?

Some people only talkin' bout a solution
Breakin' up a global union
Why's it so off-side to say I just wanna love someone?

I never want to see the world this way again

For now, forever
For the world that we treasure
I just want to love someone
For all we make up
And for all that we break up
I just want to love someone

Such hatred in this world
That I never thought I would see
It's our choice to love or hate
It's up to you and me

Government compassion, and human empathy

For now, forever
For the world that we treasure
I just want to love someone
Whoever our mothers
We are all of us brothers
I just want to love someone

For those who lead us
Well you've got to believe us
We just want to love someone
We're on your side too
But we don't want to be lied to
I just want to love someone

For everybody's sake
Yeah, for all the human race

I just want to love someone
For whoever's your savior
And for all that we pray for
I just want to love someone

For now, forever
For the world that we treasure
I just want to love someone
