You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard

Well I could use a little comfort
I mean we could use a little straight on
So don't get tangled up in all the pretty things you could choke on

You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard

Well you just might get it just right
But that could take too long
So I'll stand by all the things that I get wrong

You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard

Well do you ever let your guard down?
I mean do you ever just get turned on
By something that's simple and easy and true
Cuz I could use a little patience
I mean we could use a little straight on It's safe to say you could lighten up a little and then some

Floating on a sea so superiority doesn't suit you
It only works to pollute you
But still I guess I salute you
For tryingâ€¦!

But you make it too hard

You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard
You make it too hard

Well you just might get it just right
But that could take too long
So I'll stand by all the things that I get wrong

You made it too hard
You made it too hard
You made it too hard
