"Hindsight"

One day, a day at a time
I told the time peace
Lodge my time in your time
Hindsight is a great thing

And like a bad play as we know again
To a dissipating crowd
And once again I stand alone
Too young and too proud

And each their own should all be aware
For the killer that lies within Responsibility the bullet to bet
And a promise so hard to keep

And to say that one all science in the city
That could purge the sickness from my skin
Is another lie, a fantasy

But the killer is within, the killer is within
The killer is within, the killer is within me
The killer is within, the killer is within
The killer is within, the killer is within

I pull the trigger of a gun so to speak
And took another down
My corrupt and twisted street
I never stopped to look around

And each their own should all be aware
With all the passion that lies within Responsibilities' a burden to bear
And a promise so hard to keep

And to say that one all science in the city
That could purge the sickness from my skin
Is another lie, a fantasy

But the killer is within, the killer is within
The killer is within, the killer is within me

Take it home
