Behind you're pretty steel glance,
And this splendid fairness,
Andy ou body with perfect measurments,
So empty of hapiness,

We believe and we see a unical being,
Who cross the times inifinitely,
Offering its beauty to eyes gorged with desire we are obsessed,

But you're only a paperdoll,
Reality did not accept you,
You're only a paperdoll,
Fashion has manufactured you

You're the dream of this searching glory youth,
Following standarts dictated high here,
Suffering and with pain, we try to,
Unreal and false you appear me,

But you love this image that's imposed to you,
Who distorts the image of feminity,
Andy ou continue your lie in spite of the lives,
You break, on your way

But you're only a paperdoll,
Reality did not accept you,
You're only a paperdoll,
Fashion has manufactured you

You want to fly, but you are, taken, broken,
You want to fly, but you are in your guilded cage
