What have we done?
Never thought that life would come to this
Eternal sense of self hatred
Blame not who, but ask us why we did

This is an open book of failure
Deceive ourselves
All that we can
So we can be

Cycle of life disrupted
Halted by a force, too close to home
Guilt runs through our blood
Close your eyes and let yourself forget

This guilt runs on and on
Consumed our senses gone
This guilt runs on and on
Consumed our senses gone
This guilt runs on and on

Torn, these wings of spirit
Godless relations
Scar this heart
Beyond all hope to heal

This being won't meet this world
I know I'll take this to my grave
Take this to my grave
All but saved

Die for us, my child

This is an open book of failure
Deceive ourselves
And all that we can
So we can be

I walk each step in anger
Found fault in our design
I walk each step in anger
Found fault in our design

Now I kneel down to pray
To pray for a better time
Now I kneel down to pray
In hopes to awake from this

Die my child
Die my child
