"There Where"

I myself have ruined my life
I know it makes no sense to live on.
It seems to me that there is more than we do,
And everyone on his side.
You're somewhere far away from me,
I myself have our whole life changed,
I want to be with you at least an hour,
You will still be in me.
I can not talk about you,
But I want to talk about you.
And again you avert your eyes,
I beg you do not hurry.
With me screaming like a bird, or stand,
Stop refresh my peace
Let's click together on the brakes,
Or better let's get back together.

There where the morning together,
There where no one
There where the sun rises,
Where are we with you live
There where the wind sings,
Somewhere beyond the horizon,
There where the sun rises,
There where together asleep.

I'm dying without your beauty
Not understanding these streets empty,
Why do I say goodbye,
Do not leave any minute myself.
I'm guilty, I ruined myself,
Ruined our love, all forgotten
Now say to myself all the throw,
But I can not sleep without you.
I remember that kiss under the bridge
And talk all night about everything.
I do not want you to leave
But this autumn broke me,
I sit alone I close my eyes,
I want to tell you everything,
Let's click together on the brakes,

Or better let's get back together.

There where the morning together,
There where no one
There where the sun rises,
Where are we with you live
There where the wind sings,
Somewhere beyond the horizon,
There where the sun rises,
There where together asleep.
