The legend tells a story
Of a man who challenged nature
He built his dream
But he didn't respect the rules

I will escape out of this world
I will escape out of my time
With every breath I feel the conclusion
With every breath I dream my dream

I spread my wings and fly away
I brave the nature and catch the wind
But I won't break the agreement with the sun

No more will I feel like a prisoner
No more memories about the things that I have done
The time has come and I will turn my life
The time has come because the wind is right

I spread my wings and fly away
I brave the nature and catch the wind
But I can't break the agreement with the sun

I fall
And I enjoy this moment
No earth
And I can touch the clouds

I spread my wings and fly away
I brave the nature and catch the wind
But I can't break the agreement with the sun

I spread my wings and fly away
I brave the nature and catch the wind
But I don't break the agreement with the sun

I spread my wings
And fly away
I catch the wind
But I don't break the agreement with the sun

Icarus

I spread my wings and fly away
